Television is one of the modern inventions of Science. It presents both sight and sound, so it is different from the radio, which presents sound only. It has become one of the necessities of life. It is a great source of fun. It mixes education and fun because it gives information on many topics more than a newspaper. It gives news, views and interviews. While sitting in one's room, one can watch the events all over the world.

One can hear and see speeches, exciting matches, amusing films and plays. T.V is also a great help for housewives. They can get fun after they get bored while doing their household jobs. They also learn lessons in cooking, knitting and decoration. Children can learn PE lessons and get more information about their school subjects, too. T.V can be a good servant but a bad master. One can use it well, but another one may use it badly.
